"Mcketh" brand was established in 2008 and has undergone more than 10 years of development. The brand currently includes mcketh, 메기스, Hanwu Shan, Hanwu Cooking Art, Landashi, and Yanziju. Our company is a one-stop brand operation service provider that integrates the research and development, production, sales, and service of catering seasonings and sauces. We are located in Suzhou, within the core economic zone of the Yangtze River Delta, and deeply rooted in the leading catering manufacturing industry cluster. With excellent product quality, we have gained wide recognition in the market. Our products are now exported to multiple countries.

Our company has ISO22000:2018 Food Safety Management System Certification, HACCP Food Safety Management System Certification, US FDA Food Import and Export License. Years of research, production, and manufacturing of high-end catering seasonings have enabled "Mcketh" to have a deep understanding of every aspect, from formulation, ingredient selection, equipment and manufacturing processes. This ensures the excellence and innovation of our products and services, guiding the steady development of "Mcketh" through continuous adaptation. We constantly expand our product line to fully meet the customized needs of high-end customers. Our Korean sauces, under the brand "Mcketh," use authentic Korean recipes to create an authentic Korean flavor. They have received high praise from our customers since their launch. The production of seasoning for Western, Korean, and Japanese cuisines provides customers with more choices and ensures new vitality for our company.

Through continuous development, Mcketh has established a comprehensive global sales network. Our company will always uphold the principle of providing consumers with high-quality products and services.
